

Akron Zoo Scavenger Hunt

1. Nest temperature determines the gender this baby animal before it hatches.

2. This animal once lived in the United States but now can only be found in Mexico and Central and South America.

3. This animal was eliminated in the wild in the early 1900's, but is now recovering and has a healthy wild population in Ohio. Why don't you "slide through" their exhibit?

4. This animal has no eyelids, so it can't blink! Instead, it uses its long tongue to clean its eyes.

5. A grizzly bear can run up to 40 miles per hour. Stop by the leg stretch exercise station before visiting our grizzly bears in case they want to race!
6. Owls are found on every continent except which one?

7. This animal resembles a sheep, but is more closely related to a wild goat.

8. This mammal can survive for up to 15 minutes without oxygen!

9. Pound for pound this animal has wings that are structurally stronger than the wings of a jet plane!

10. This animal pollinates flowers and spreads seeds, but is sometimes hunted for damaging crops.

11. This animal is critically endangered because of habitat destruction, disease, and being hunted for their legs.
